

POTTERY BARN

Shop

Newport on the Levee GameWorks gets upgraded restaurant concept

Sarah Brookbank, Cincinnati Enquirer Published 11:22 a.m. ET Sept. 27, 2018 | Updated 11:26 a.m. ET Sept. 27, 2018

(Photo: The Enquirer/Patrick Reddy)

The Newport on the Levee GameWorks location is getting a restaurant upgrade, with more food options and specialty milkshakes.

The Works Kitchen, which features an "eclectic" take on traditional bar food, will open inside the existing GameWorks location. The 20,000-square-foot GameWorks features 140 arcade games and 26 big screen televisions in addition to the new food options.

New items include (<http://theworkskitchen.com/>) Bavarian pretzels, hand-stretched pizzas, Buffalo-fried cauliflower; spiced and seared yellowfin tuna sashimi and even the Impossible Burger. Another burger option is the Works burger, a grilled cheese-stuffed, 1.5-pound double burger.

The restaurant also offers an impressive list of milkshakes:

- Frozen Brunch, a vanilla milkshake which boasts bacon, a Belgium waffle and maple syrup.
- Movie Theater, a chocolate milkshake complete with red-rope licorice, caramel popcorn, chocolate candy and whipped cream.
- Unicorn, a rainbow sherbet milkshake with rock candy and cotton candy, topped with a sugar cone.

"The menu at The Works Kitchen at GameWorks Newport features a large selection of items, all done with a modern twist that makes our offering different and incomparable to the typical, traditional food and bar fare found at most entertainment concepts today," Chef Tony Leitera said in a statement. "We believe there is something for everyone, and our food-forward fare caters to all ages and tastes."

GameWorks Newport is located at 1 Levee Way, #2130 in Newport.

Read or Share this story: <https://cin.ci/2NI2FA0>